

Family Reunion

Zoe Bush, a presiding judge at the Superior Court of the District of Columbia's family court, addresses families at the annual D.C. Family Celebration Day at the Town Hall Education Arts and Recreation Center in Southeast. The family court and the D.C. Child and Family Services Agency (CFSA) cohosted the event to honor families that have been successfully reunited rather than have their children remain in foster care. D.C. Mayor Vincent C. Gray and CFSA Director Brenda Donald also were among the event's speakers.—K.A.
